Greetings to you all from St Giles, Holme, May 2012

Over the past 12 months we have been most fortunate in the ministry provided for us, by in particular, our three local retired priests, Revd Michael Briggs, Canon Dendle French and Canon John Smith as well as all the supporting work done by Marion Collins; ensuring that things run smoothly. We wish to express our gratitude to these people and also to our organist, Mr Peter Gill.

A year ago we reported that plans were underway to rebuild the churchyard north wall. This has now been completed, funded by Holme Bank Land Trust for which we are most grateful. Matthew Rowe was the contractor and assisted by his wife Rosie they have built a very fine wall in the original bricks which has transformed the appearance of the area behind the church.

There are a number of activities planned this year at Holme, starting with a Coffee Evening at Church Cottage, Holme on Friday 4th May. The church will be open on both the Open Churches weekends (14/15 & 21/22 July) which will be celebrated with special Diamond Jubilee flowers in the church. On the 21st July Nigel will be giving a slide show of local events and there will be some music with refreshments. With our excellent entry in the Southwell & Nottingham Church History Project and reference on many other web sites we are expecting many visitors over these weekends – indeed we hope that they will be popular for all the churches in the East Trent.

With our best wishes, Nigel and Doreen
